

(INTERCHANGE)
After 1933 inquiries of the government multiplied the requests for statistical material for economic planning, so that this office was called upon to do more and more of this sort of work. It was not necessary at that time to call the technical men to Berlin from the ~~factories~~ various plants to answer such inquiries. The mediation office passed on the inquiries to the plants; the plants sent the answers to the mediation office, which sent them to the Ministry which made the request.

(~~TRIPLE SPACE~~)
Then, a few weeks after the German Government "made difficulties" and sent the Russian Trade Delegation back to Moscow, Krauch's "mediation office" became the Vermittlungstelle Wehrmacht.

von Schnitzler had said that Krauch, "as head of the ~~Rent~~ Sparte I, became head also of the Vermittlungstelle Wehrmacht."

Krauch's counsel ~~went on:~~ "What do you have to say about this?"

"The Vermittlungstelle Wehrmacht was not directly under me. It was under the Sparte office."

"Then the statement of your colleague, Dr. von Schnitzler, is not correct?"

"Yes, it is not correct. No doubt von Schnitzler as a pure businessman was not..well informed."

Then ~~how about the Professor's~~ ^{perhaps you can explain the} letter to the plants, ^{purporting to} (~~EXPLAIN~~) ~~explaining~~ that the Vermittlungstelle Wehrmacht had been set up to work on plans "for a possible war."?

(~~REPHRASE~~)
I shall ~~repeat~~ my question, Dr. Krauch. The Prosecution has offered this letter as especially incriminating regarding knowledge and promotion of a war of aggression. What do you have to say about this document?

(Case Interchange.)
The date is September 1935. This was in connection with Germany's rearmament, which I do not attempt to deny in any way. But rearmament does not imply the intention of a war of aggression. A special emphasis is given to the importance of defense economy and defense
