October 18, 1949

thing to a pro-democratic force in the country. But, notwithstanding, because of the bias of his advisors, Clay tolerated a policy which excluded the labor unions, which disregarded their recommendations of candidates for positions and which, again to quote Clark, "ostentatiously turned its back on them when an International industrialist had something to say." I could multiply this by many examples but I am sure you get the point.

Please excuse the trouble I am putting you to but I would like a thorough research job done and I feel that the Society has the library and files with which to do it.

Thanking you for your kind attention to this matter, I am

Sincerely,

BELLE MAYER

BM/tp