FLICK CASE - REPORT NO. 11

DAILY TRIAL REPORT - MILITARY TRIBUNAL NO. 4 - FLICK CASE.

EVIDENCE: Dr. Siemers continued the cross-examination of the witness Voytovitch. Dr. Nath, Counsel for Kaletsch, then cross-examined. Dr. Pelckmann, Counsel for Terberger, then began cross-examination. The Prosecution announced that it had made no charges against Terberger for use of slave labor at Rombach despite the fact that he was on the Aufsichtsrat and that therefore the client was not affected by the testimony of this witness. Dr. Pelckmann agreed that he had no right to examine the witness if this charge is withdrawn.

The Prosecution then called to the stand Sonia Cheyko. She is a Ukranian who was drafted for slave labor in June, 1942 and eventually was assigned to Rombach. She testified as to her arrest in the Ukraine, transportation conditions, and conditions of work at Rombach. She was cross-examined by Dr. Nath, Dr. Kranzbuehler and Dr. Dix.

Prosecution then called Zdenek Lipold, a Czech who at the age of 20 was forced to go to Germany as a slave worker and who worked at the A.T.G. Plant in Leipzig until April, 1945. Direct examination was not completed by the end of the session.

LAW AND PROCEDURE: Dr. Siemers asked the Prosecution to obtain from the files of the Rombach Plant the individual labor records of the witnesses Cheyko and Voytovitch. The Prosecution stated that it had no such records in its possession and did not know of their existence at Rombach, but would make inquiries to see if such records were still located at Rombach.
